SWEDISH MOVEMENT—A. E. Elmer, graduate, Swedish business gives treatment in private homes and at office appointments. Phone 804, Broadway, 215. Office, 615 Seventeenth street.

Not even Belgium has drunk so deep of blood as the sad captive province of Alsace. Victory, defeat and vengeance have ravished it in turn, and the Alsatians knew what they had to expect. Early in July a whisper went through the villages that Germany was making ready for war.

Persons with a passion for figures will be delighted to learn that the armies of Europe are eating 11,250 tons of food per day when they can get it. With this as a basis, perhaps the statisticians will be able to figure out the length of the war.
